ABOUT CSJMU KANPUR

Chhatrapati Shahu Ji Maharaj University Kanpur, a premier landmark of higher education in Uttar Pradesh is named after the great social reformer Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj also known as Rajarshi Shahu. It is a well-established and respected educational community where students of all backgrounds study and work together in a congenial and encouraging academic atmosphere.

The Chhatrapati Shahu Ji Maharaj University, Kanpur (Formerly Kanpur University, Kanpur) was established in the year 1966. Prior to the establishment of the University, affiliation of colleges in its vicinity were to the Agra University. In the year 1949, the Radha Krishnan Commission suggested the establishment of a university in Kanpur with the aim of reducing the pressure on Agra University. To fulfil this demand, in the year 1966, the state government established Kanpur University under the Kanpur and Meerut Universities Act 1965 with the motto "Aroh Tamso Jyoti" (Rise from darkness to light). In the preamble it is stated that Kanpur University will initially have an affiliating character but will gradually assume the shape of residential University. The University proudly celebrate its 57th foundation day on February 9 every year.

In the year 2004, there were 202 colleges of which 77 were aided and 125 self-financing colleges. There were 20 ayurvedic and Unnai colleges affiliated to the University which included 10 Government colleges and 10 private colleges. There were also constituent colleges including GSVM Medical College and Nursing College. There are 952 colleges spread over eleven districts of the UP state were affiliated to CSJM University.

During more than four decades of its existence, the University established itself firmly as a quality teaching and research institution. The Research Degree Committee (RDC) in each subject was established to monitor and promote research in respective subject areas. In 2016, the University established funds for granting aid for research projects submitted by faculty members of the university and affiliate colleges. The University also pioneered the use of E-governance tools for admission and online governance.
