UNHEARD MELODIES: A Symphony of Student Voices Rings Out! (04.04.2025)

The School Of Languages at Chhatrapati Shahu ji Maharaj University, Kanpur, successfully launched the Spring 2025 edition of its esteemed literary magazine, “Unheard Melodies,” on April 4th 2025. The event was held at the university campus and was a vibrant celebration of student creativity and academic literary pursuit.

The ceremony was graced by the presence and inspirational guidance of Professor Vinay Kumar Pathak, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor of CSJM University. The magazine was officially released by Dr. Sarvesh Mani Tripathi, Director of the School of Languages.

Dr. Sarvesh Mani Tripathi in his presidential address fluently set the tone for the event. He pointed out that literature serves as a mirror to society and affirmed that “Unheard Melodies” provides a crucial platform for students to not only understand the nuances of their language and literature but also to showcase and sharpen their creative talents. He glorifies the high quality of articles, poems and compositions featured in the new edition.

According to Dr. Sumana Biswas, a key faculty coordinator, the magazine bears great institutional importance. She articulated that "Unheard Melodies" stands as the vital medium encouraging creativity and fostering literary expression among our student community, giving a structured voice to their original thoughts.

The launching ceremony was concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr. Pooja Agarwal, in which she deeply thanked the Honourable Vice-Chancellor for his continuous support, all the contributors for their works of literature, and the organizing team and participants who made this an event of great success.

The magazine was collaboratively brought out by all the faculty members of the School of Languages to symbolize a shared commitment towards the promotion and nurturing of the literary arts. The Spring 2025 edition carries a diverse collection of writings from students and faculty-ranging from insightful articles on literature, culture, and linguistic studies to modern concerns. The singing of the National Anthem marked the close of the inaugural ceremony on a very patriotic note. The event was intended to act as a niche and an inspiration for the students; hence, it achieved its motive: honing of literary skills and strengthening the cultural ethos at the university. The event was attended by faculty members including Dr. Ankit Trivedi, Dr. Sonali Maurya, Dr. Prabhat Gaurav Mishra, Dr. Shriprakash, Dr. Laxman Kumar, Dr. Richa Shukla, Dr. Diksha Shukla, Dr. Shalini Shukla and Dr. Preeti Vardhan along with university staff and enthusiastic students. Now for the Winter Issue 2025, the editorial board is inviting submissions of poems, short stories, articles, and visual art from students at CSJMU and other universities.
