The Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad, Kanpur University Unit and the students of the university Celebrated the birth anniversary of Maharani Laxmi Bai. The event was organized in the auditorium of Chhatrapati Shahu Ji Maharaj University. The purpose of this program is to re-awaken the form of Maharani Laxmi Bai in the society and to empower women towards themselves and towards the society.

The program was inaugurated by the Vice Chancellor Prof. Vinay Kumar Pathak, Smt. Neelima Katiyar. Swapnil Varun, Dr. Vandana Pathak and Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad Kanpur district chief Dr. Varsha Singh lit the lamp.

The Vice-Chancellor Prof. Vinay Kumar Pathak on his address said that the student council has a keen interest in shaping culture, education, and personality. Recalling the story of Rani Laxmi Bai's bravery, he said that there is a lot to learn from the personality of Rani Lakshmi Bai and many other revolutionaries like her. Along with this, he described the role of mother as one of the most important.

In this program, the Higher Education Minister Smt. Neelima Katiyar inspired the daughters to be brave while reminding a memory of Rani Lakshmi Bai's childhood. At the same time, he said that today women's power is dominated everywhere, whether it is water, land, or air force.

In this program, girls from various departments of Kanpur University, girls from SN Sen Balika Vidya Mandir and students from PSIT displayed their art. In this program, three distinguished women, Smt. Mudita, Smt. Shanta Mukherjee and Smt. Shalini Mohan were honored by giving mementoes, especially for promoting social service and intellectual work in Kanpur.
