Online Education

1. Does all programs/courses were completed on time.	Yes
2. Measures taken to complete the syllabus of courses and programs.	The faculty members were encouraged to use online pedagogy and were given training in the use of online conferencing applications. Students were notified by their provided email addresses and phone numbers, while concerned teachers set up WhatsApp groups and other social media platforms to spread the word. Slides from lectures, PDFs of handouts, audio recordings of lectures, and videos of lectures were all made available to students. The recorded videos were also made available on the university's website. Faculty at all departments at the university have access to a central repository where they can upload and distribute relevant course materials to students on demand. The Central Library's subscription e-resources were made available to the faculty and students via remote access. Program outcomes were assessed in a number of ways, using online and blended methods, including formative assessment (done in real time as instruction was being given) and summative assessment (examinations given at the semester's midpoint and conclusion).
3. The period of delay in completion of syllabus (in months).	0

4. The period of delay in conducting exams (in months).		0
