

END HUNGER, ACHIEVE FOOD SECURITY & IMPROVED NUTRITION AND PROMOTE SUSTAINABLE AGRICULTURE

Relevance

Ensures food security and nutrition for all members of the university and surrounding communities. Promotes sustainable agricultural practices through education and research. At CSJMU, the Anganwadi Sahbhagita program is a fantastic outreach initiative that aims to help the Anganwadi centers that are currently in place. The institution is dedicated to 'helping the helper' and through bolstering the Anganwadi centers, CSJMU works to enhance the education, health, and development of impoverished children.

Current Interventions

-  Regular food distribution programs for underprivileged communities.
-  Nutritional support programs for students and staff.
-  Research and development in sustainable agriculture and food production.

Policy/Guidelines of the Institute

-  Guidelines for ensuring nutritious meals in university canteens.
-  Policies supporting local farmers and sustainable agricultural practices.

Future Plans

-  Expansion of community gardens and agricultural projects.
-  increased support for research in sustainable food production methods.
-  University has planned to strengthen the remaining Anganwadi centres of Kanpur District and other districts under University's Jurisdiction